An arrest usually occurs when a law enforcement officer is investigating or trying to prevent a crime, detaining someone and depriving them of their liberty. Arrests may occur during a traffic stop, for example, or as a result of an arrest warrant issued for a person of interest. An arrest does not mean a person has been convicted of a crime, however. ## Criminal/Traffic Records

Criminal offenses are those which result in a conviction in the court of law and a sentence of jail time and/or fines. Misdemeanor crimes result in up to one year in jail; felonies carry sentences longer than one year.

Traffic offenses can include anything from tickets for speeding to driving under the influence. Moving violations are very minor, but a criminal offense such as a DUI means that person has been convicted in court and provided a sentence. There are several types of warrants including:

Arrest warrant: calls for the arrest of named individual in warrant

Search warrant: allows a search of an individual's personal property, business or residence

Bench warrant: allows for an individual to be arrested and brought in front of a judge, typically due to failing to appear for a scheduled court appearance
