Dear Ms. Huynh:

You have stated that I am no longer your son, and you threatened me with legal action on two occasions. Therefore, I am addressing you accordingly, out of courtesy.

This letter is to inform you that you are lacking consent when recording my family members and me in private settings, including my father in his residence. If you need to know the reason, it's because your intention for audio and video recordings is not for his welfare or benefit. To the contrary, the recordings are selective and biased, and are disruptive to the care workers attending to my father.

Until you get another email to the contrary, this email stands as an unconditional statement of lack of consent.

Thank you.

Mark
