I left the table to pay the bill for just 3 minutes, and returned to them crying and talking about marriage. First thing f--ing Annalise asks me is, "if we were to get married, how does that affect my security?" I pretended I didn't know what she was getting at. I told her she should just keep all her money separate for her own protection.

Thanks for the updates, Huy. I'm just getting through an intensive period of wrapping up my job and will leave at the end of the month. What help do you need?

The Chipper house is nearly ready for rental to a family (four bedrooms, two baths; Dad will keep two bedrooms, two baths and a kitchenette). Ken is out and Jeff is currently being court evicted. The two biggest remaining problems for Dad are:

1. He keeps driving. In fact, he caused a minor accident just yesterday.
2. Annalise. Or more precisely, she is easy to get out of the house, but Dad has been undecided about her fate. Therefore she keeps getting permitted back in the house.

I think I can convince Annalise to move out in the August timeframe. By September 1st, there should be a new rental lease starting. Starting in September, hopefully Dad will have assisted-living help and can be weened off his cars.
