Thank you Huy and Mom.

It's important to share the facts of what we know and what was provided to Dad.

The main thing I would add is that Dad went through a Memory Assessment on Feb 7, 2023 and received the attached letter from his doctor with the following diagnosis:

Diagnosis-Dementia

- Your health and safety is our priority hence we suggest that you do not drive, as this will increase risk of accidents.
- Please allow help with making your healthcare and financial decisions as we found that you may not have full capacity to make these decisions.
- Please allow help at home.

Regarding Department of Motor Vehicle (DMV) Reporting;

California state law requires me to send a form to the Department of Public Health if there is a concern regarding safety while driving. They notify the Department of Motor Vehicles. I have no choice in this matter.

The heater of the house on OC is not important. I seldom turn the heat on!

Always remember that Dad will read your report

No matter that he is rational or NOT. Until the rest of his life

The idea that his dear son accused him something that forces him out of his house and the life he wants to live will break his heart until his death. Believe or not, he will take a grudge against the reporter

Let do the way that you are on his side, ignore what is bad he did. Let say, you heard what tenants said but you believe in your dad, you do not live there, you do not see things in depth and you believe in what he said and you love him you tried to protect him unsuccessfully against those mean people

I wanted to report, but I worried about the consequence on me and indirectly to you

He or his relatives will find me up here to hurt me. They did not help him but they want to play Robinhood!, they are criminals and they can do any antisocial things

In my opinion

Dad will have access to your report

You only report the situation, let's say objective, but based on superficial observation and "hearsay" from his tenant. I think that you do not have to be accurate and thorough on the report. You will tell SW that there are a lot of unsolved problems

You stress that you concern about his well being and the safety of the household.

You live in the bay area and only visit him twice a year and you can not deal with the situation due to your time constriction and his non cooperation

Senior social worker who will be at the scene will explore and go deeprooted into the problem. That is their job to do it

Do not say anything that is not good for dad's side, if he has to deal with what tenants accused him

Also, heating is not provided to tenants during winter.

On Monday:

I'll call Adult Protective Services and tell them my concerns about Dad.

Immediate concerns:

* He regularly drives without a valid driver license.

- Recently he has been in several car accidents. His car is possibly impounded now, following his last accident.

* Threats and plots against one of the tenants (Ken).

- Unsubstantiated allegations of rape against that tenant, which were part of an eviction attempt that was eventually dropped.

* Illegal harassment of one of the tenants, for which Adult Protective Services was called around 4/6. The harassment included physical assault (grabbing clothes and spitting) and removal of the tenant's refrigerator.

* Health hazards: House and kitchen are very dirty. Feces all over at least one of the bathrooms. Bio odor throughout the house.

* Fire hazards: blocked access ways. Some smoke alarms are not working.

* Tenants have not been informed of his mental diagnosis. Thus they are exposed to a danger of which they are unaware.

Other concerns:

* He is not taking his meds. He has a diagnosis of dementia and diabetes, but often skips his prescription meds.

* Public indecency. He walks around with his pants dropped below his buttocks. He has incontinence issues but does not wear adult diapers.

* Many police calls to the house (eight in the last three months), some of which are against him for complaints of assault.

* Two pet cats in the home, possibly inhumane treatment of them.

Long-term desire, for County to assist with:

* Declare incapacitance.

- All tenants should be informed, and sign an informed consent form.

* Give the family some guidance for how to be granted full conservatorship.
