

Subject: dad

From: Thanh Huynh <thanhxhuynh2003@yahoo.com>

Date: 7/18/2023, 3:48 PM

To: Hien Cao <hcaosc@gmail.com>, Hanh Cao Yu <hanh.cao.yu@stanfordalumni.org>, Huy Cao <mark.cao@gmail.com>

Dear Hien Hanh Huy.

I have just come back from the gym and read your email

Right Now, i am very very very sad

All in my mind is Dad wellbeing but nothing else

I understand Dad who has very kind heart but he has been taking advantage by a lot of people, women, his relatives

I regret the he did not take care of himself

All we need to do now is not to let those things damage his life anymore and keep the value of his financial assets for the rest of his life

All i am thinking now is just leave everything the way it is

All we need to do is his well being . We respect him as long as he lives

Dad is a decent person we should respect all of his decisions and leave his money and his property as long as he lives

I pray that if his mental status improves he will be back to the Dad that we had before as much as possible

If he can get out of nursing home, we will find a decent assisting living home for him

When i lost my CADL i found Stoneridge assisting living which somebody compare it as a five star hotel

The most important thing we need to do is to keep others from taking advantage of his hard earned money, until his death

Anything left after his death will for his children

I can even help with the money i have

I do not know how long i live, can be one day , can be 50 more years , but i am willing to help financially. i have very little expense for daily life. It is very painful to see him at the home in Huntington Beach

I do now know how long he can live

If his living condition changes he can live longer as a decent person.

Love,

Mom

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone